STEAMER MARGARET CHARGES OF CONSERVATIVES ARE FOUND TO BE WITHOUT FOUNDATION

R. L. Calder, Counsel, Tells Commissioner Lemieux in Quebec no Evidence Exists of Improper Use of Federal Vessel for Pleasure Voyages While Bureau and Lapointe Were Ministers; Master of Steamer Says A. J. Doucet's Accusations Have no Basis.

Quebec, Aug. 5 (Canadian Press).—"After having examined all the documents and after Mr. Doucet, Mr. O'Connor and myself have taken note of all relevant evidence and the crew of the steamer Margaret having been examined, I wish to declare publicly and categorically that no incident occurred aboard the Margaret which could be used as a reproach against the persons named, whether Mr. Lapointe, Mr. Bureau or any of their companions," said R. L. Calder, K.C., at opening of the inquiry here to-day into the cruise of the Federal Government steamer Margaret instituted at the request of Premier Meighen, following statements made on the public platform by A. J. Doucet, late Conservative M.P. for Kent, N.B., who charged that Hon. Ernest Lapointe, then Minister of Justice, and Hon. Jacques Bureau, then Minister of Customs, had taken a "joy sail" on the Government steamer, which cruised the St. Lawrence and Saguenay Rivers for six weeks.

These statements were subsequently denied by the ex-Ministers. Mr. Calder is Government counsel, and is being assisted in the inquiry by W. F. O'Connor, K.C., of Ottawa.

Inspector Walter Duncan was the officer who carried out the investigation of the customs situation in the port of Montreal, which preceded the Commons committee inquiry. Mr. Calder said the official documents relevant to the cutter and examination of the vessel's crew had satisfied him the statements attributed to Mr. Doucet and others were not based on facts. But to meet the order of the Government and to satisfy public opinion, he called Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Hon. Jacques Bureau, Senator Jacques Bureau, former Minister of Customs, and Capt. Alfred Lacouève, master of the steamer Margaret. All riders of the Margaret had been examined by Mr. Lapointe and once visited the ship and that Mr. Bureau had made three inspection trips. They were all cleared and nothing irregular had occurred.

HEARING ADJOURNS

Refusing to allow examination of Mr. Doucet or of John Sullivan, Conservative candidate in Chateaufort-Montington, Quebec, Commons committee adjourned Saturday morning for resumption of the Margaret's log book. The incident opened by the Doucet speeches would be made to Ottawa.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe said the only time he had ever been on the steamer Margaret was in July, 1922, at Prince Edward Island. He and others were en route home from the celebration at Pictou, N.S., where they had represented the Federal Government and the Province of Quebec.

Representing Mr. Lapointe, Hon. Lucien Cannon, former Solicitor General of Canada, cross-examined him. His questions soon led to (Continued on page 12)

IDAHO RANCHER FIRE VICTIM

The victim of the flames was Corrahan Hutchinson, sixty, a rancher who lived in Hoodoo Valley, near Sand Point, Idaho. His body, charred and badly burned, was found beside a stream near his ranch. He apparently had fallen exhausted just before he reached the water.

3,000 DEATHS IN FLOOD IN CHINA

Disaster Caused by Rise of Level of Yangtze River; Heavy Property Loss

Hankow, China, Aug. 5.—The Yangtze River, one of the outstanding of mother earth's great rivers, has added another dismal chapter to the history of Oriental floods.

Approximately 3,000 persons lost their lives in a deluge which followed the bursting of the dikes in the southeastern part of Hupeh province, a quarter of a million farmers have fled the district and an untold amount of damage has been done to the crops in the 2,000 square miles of flooded territory.

The city of Hankow, often called the Chicago of China, was saved from disaster when the breaking of a dike permitted the waters which had backed through sewers upon it to drain. Forces are now at work strengthening the river banks with sandbags and otherwise fortifying the area against the dangers of a stream swollen by heavy rains.

Refugees from the flooded areas are pouring into the centres of population, bringing reports of crop failure which may mean a repetition of the famine of the disastrous food famine of a year ago.

This jury, under the Washington law, will decide in the first place whether Gaines is guilty of first degree murder or a lesser homicide, and then, if he is convicted of first degree murder, whether he shall be hanged or be imprisoned for life.

STRATHCONA TIMBER SHOULD BE PRESERVED, SAYS PATTULLO AFTER INSPECTING PARK AREA

Beautiful timber stands at strategic points along Butties Lake, chief scenic gem of Strathcona Park, should be preserved, although they are privately owned now. This definite declaration in favor of maintaining the beauty of Vancouver Island's great natural playground in the face of threatened logging operations was made to-day by Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, following a trip through the park wilds. The Minister added that his Department was studying the whole question of park preservation in British Columbia with a view to advising the Legislature at its next session on methods of handling publicly-owned parks in the future.

Speaking of his visit to Strathcona Park the Minister said: "The trip to the Strathcona Park Reserve was both instructive and enjoyable. Butties Lake, as to which there has recently been some public discussion, is very beautiful. The lake is bordered by precipitous mountains of majestic proportions, while back of these mountains are rugged fastnesses which will afford great enjoyment to those who delight in alpine exploration.

"The waters of Butties Lake are deep and dark, and one can run his boat right up to the shore-line at practically any point.

"At times the lake is a marvelous mirror—every crack, every tree-top, the patches of snow on the mountain tops, the forest and hanging at times to the higher peaks, all are mirrored in clearest delineation, while the sun lies a great ball of light in the depth of the wonderful mirror.

800 SUICIDES IN CITY OF BUDAPEST

Budapest, Aug. 5.—Suicides are becoming amazingly prevalent in Budapest and in other large cities of Hungary. During the last four months the total in Budapest was 809. Frequently there are as many as fifteen suicides in a single day in the capital.

The Government attributes most of the cases to the extreme conditions of misery prevailing among the poor. Many other cases are due to financial ruin.

BANK OF MONTREAL CHIEF TO BE HERE FOR FOUR DAYS

Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor Meeting Forty B.C. Managers in Vancouver

Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, general manager of the Bank of Montreal, arrived in Vancouver last night by special train from Montreal and will cross to Victoria Sunday night to spend four days here.

The first shot for the defence was fired by the city at the opening session before Mr. Bell on July 23 when the city served notice of its intention to sue the engineer in arrears for a clarification of the whole affair.

On that occasion H. A. McLean, K.C., acting for the city, advanced three points which the city will press in its action to settle the Westholme dispute for all time. The first position is that while Mr. Bell was named by the city for appointment, the contract was never made, it is contended. Alternatively, the city sets up that if Mr. Bell should be deemed to have power to act in the matter, there remains at this date nothing for him to settle.

Alternatively, and without prejudice to its first stand, the city sets up that even if the contract was deemed for time, and Mr. Bell is duly acting in accordance with his appointment, the accounting rendered at the close of the Sooke Waterworks contract still stands as the last word in the case.

The city is prepared to argue that there is no balance due to the Westholme Lumber Company, and that most of the points now raised have been settled by the courts twice over.

Nominally the city's action against Mr. Bell is for a declaration that nothing remains to be settled at this date and for an injunction restraining the engineer from taking any part in the dispute.

NARCOTIC SEIZURE MADE IN NEW YORK

Drugs Said to Have Had Total Prospective Peddlers' Value of $1,000,000

New York, Aug. 5.—A large black steamer trunk that was unloaded with other baggage from the Montreal Express at the 125th Street Station of the New York Central Railroad here to-day was seized by federal agents and found to contain $100,000 worth of narcotics. It is believed the drugs were smuggled to this continent from Russia.

The trunk was sent out from Russia to Switzerland and then to Montreal, the federal agents believe. Two similar trunks are believed to be en route to New York and a watch has been set at all the railroad terminals in the city.

The total value of the contraband in the three trunks is thought to be about $300,000.

Although the legitimate value of the narcotics seized was given as $100,000, the supply confiscated probably would have been sold for $1,000,000, according to the government agents. On this basis they arrived at the estimate of $3,000,000 as the probable selling value of the illegal shipments in the three trunks.

ALPINISTS ATTEMPT TO CLIMB REDOUBT PEAK IN JASPER PARK MOUNTAINS

Tonquin Valley, Jasper National Park, Alberta, Aug. 5.—The climbers making up the annual camp here of the Alpine Club of Canada are finding Redoubt Turret Peak a baffling problem. Dr. J. W. A. Hickson, of Montreal, president of the Alpine Club of Canada, and Howard Palmer of New London, Conn., president of the American Alpine Club, associated themselves with a reconnaissance of Redoubt this week, but were unable to find any way route of ascent. An attempt will be made on the Turret this week by M. D. Geddes, Annapolis, president of the Alpine Club, and Lawrence Grassie.

Observations of the peak have led to the conclusion that it will present difficulties as severe as are to be found in any of the ranges of Switzerland. There is no easy route of ascent. The climb calls for a great deal of severe rock work up about 10,000 feet. In addition it has been found that the top of the peak is of mushroom shape and this adds a further difficulty and hazard.

FLAG PRESENTED

An item of interest yesterday was the presentation to the Alpine Club of a flag by the Toronto section. The colors are green, white and grey. The green represents the trees of the lower slopes, the grey the rocks of the mountains and the white the ice.

ENGINEER SAYS WESTHOLME CASE WILL BE OPENED

Notice Served on City to Prepare to Defend Its Stand in Waterworks Dispute

City Definitely Committed to Third Round in the Courts Over Settlement

After hanging fire for a few weeks the Westholme-Victoria litigation is now off on its third round of the British Columbia courts. In a notice served on the city yesterday W. W. Bell, independent engineer named at one stage of the proceedings to settle any disputes, says he will proceed to a reopening of the affair on Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the courthouse, Bastion Street.

In his communication to the City Hall, Mr. Bell advises "I now beg to state I am advised that it is my duty to proceed, under my appointment, to the determination of the various matters in dispute."

Mr. Bell's position in the ten-year-old dispute is similar to the experience of mining referees. On the one hand he has been pressed by agents of the Westholme Lumber Company to proceed to an accounting. On the other his status is attacked by the city, which "sets up" that the whole issue is dead and cannot be revived. Appraised of this at the first session, two weeks ago, Mr. Bell said he felt the need of legal advice himself. Now he states he will proceed with the work in hand, and will hear representatives from either side.

The first shot for the defence was fired by the city at the opening session before Mr. Bell on July 23 when the city served notice of its intention to sue the engineer in arrears for a clarification of the whole affair.

On that occasion H. A. McLean, K.C., acting for the city, advanced three points which the city will press in its action to settle the Westholme dispute for all time. The first position is that while Mr. Bell was named by the city for appointment, the contract was never made, it is contended. Alternatively, the city sets up that if Mr. Bell should be deemed to have power to act in the matter, there remains at this date nothing for him to settle.

Alternatively, and without prejudice to its first stand, the city sets up that even if the contract was deemed for time, and Mr. Bell is duly acting in accordance with his appointment, the accounting rendered at the close of the Sooke Waterworks contract still stands as the last word in the case.

The city is prepared to argue that there is no balance due to the Westholme Lumber Company, and that most of the points now raised have been settled by the courts twice over.

Nominally the city's action against Mr. Bell is for a declaration that nothing remains to be settled at this date and for an injunction restraining the engineer from taking any part in the dispute.

BULGARIA TRIES TO END BANDITS' RAIDS

Jugoslavia is Assured Efforts Made to Keep Bands From Crossing Border

Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 5.—The Bulgarian Government, replying to a protest from Jugoslavia, against raids by criminal bands (irregulars) into the latter's territory, states Bulgaria is doing everything possible to compel the irregulars to cease such activities.

The Bulgarian reply asks why her neighbors, with their relatively large standing armies compared with Bulgaria's limited forces, are not allowed by treaties to police their frontiers themselves. Rumania has agreed to do this and Bulgaria suggests that Jugoslavia do likewise.

SEVERAL DEATHS IN CLASHES IN MEXICO

Events of Violence Grow Out of Differences Between State and Church

Knights of Columbus in Convention in Philadelphia Make Protest

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Newspaper dispatches from Guadalajara say six persons were killed and fourteen wounded Tuesday night in a fight between soldiers and persons alleged to be Roman Catholics. The soldiers killed one was an army officer and two were private.

It is asserted persons inside the Church of Guadalajara fired upon General Manuel Aguilar, who was passing the church. The soldiers fired upon the church the church towers were fired upon the soldiers.

After the soldiers had driven the crowd from the church the church was returned and attempted to recapture the edifice, but failed. The soldiers closed the church and sealed the doors. One dispatch says several guns and swords and axes were found inside the church. The civilians have been ordered to cease carrying arms.

WOMAN BEHEADED

An unconfirmed report has reached here to the effect that a Mexican woman was beheaded Sunday night at Irapuato by a crowd incensed over the cessation of services in the Roman Catholic churches which made an attack on Protestants. The report adds that the crowd insulted two Mexican men and one Mexican woman, believed to be Protestants. The woman then was taken to the outskirts of the town and her head was chopped off with an axe, according to the report.

DECEPTION PRACTICED

Hands of crooks have victimized a number of Roman Catholic women in the streets of Mexico City. They have halted women wearing necklaces with gold crosses and informed them they were detectives and that it was unlawful to wear religious insignia publicly. It is asserted the women willingly gave up their jewelry on the promise that they would not be taken to jail.

Public Service

SERVING 19,500,000 customers with sixty-five billion kilowatt hours a year, the electrical industry on this continent is one of the greatest.

B.C. Electric progress in the last 29 years has also been phenomenal.

From the small beginnings of the B.C. Electric system in those days, it has grown to be one of the largest in Canada and one of the six greatest on the Pacific Coast.

BRITISH COLUMBIA ELECTRIC RAILWAY CO. VICTORIA

by word of mouth and by splendid articles appearing in the Eagle Magazine from time to time, so decided to hold their annual banquet this year in Victoria, instead of the town in which the convention is usually held. FORESEES GREAT POPULATION IN B.C.

Lieut.-Governor Bruce, Opening Vancouver Exhibition, Speaks of Possibilities

Vancouver, Aug. 5.—"Even as Vancouver has developed from a small waterfront settlement into a mighty city, so the Vancouver Exhibition has grown from the status of a country fair to the proportions of a metropolitan exposition, worthy of the city, the province and the Dominion."

With these words Lieut.-Governor R. Randolph Bruce formally opened the annual exhibition here yesterday. The splendid showing in every department of the fair, he said, "is clearly indicative of the marvelous growth of this great heritage of ours, British Columbia. But the development already achieved is but an indication again of the huge development yet to take place, and upon the eve of which we now are."

"I am not only proud of our progress; I am stimulated to look ahead and try to realize what the future holds for us. Certain it is that in the past fifty-five years, our population has increased from 60,000 to 600,000; and if it continues to increase at a similar rate, which I believe it will, many of us here to-day will live to see 6,000,000 people residing in British Columbia and helping to make of our province a world force in commerce and manufacture."

VOICES OPTIMISM

"I am tremendously enthusiastic about this Province of ours, and I am more than optimistic about its future. One has but to look around this wonderful city to see the remarkable progress and development that is taking place."

"The premier port of British Columbia and I do not hesitate to say it is destined to become the premier port of the whole of the Pacific coast."

"But we must not lose sight of one very cogent fact. A port is only the gateway from and into a country, and it is largely the development of the interior of that country which determines its place in the commercial history of the world."

"The time will come and come quickly, when British Columbia products will so far outweigh the combined freight passing into and through the province from outside her boundaries that the latter will be comparatively insignificant."

In sixty-four cities and towns of the country every house has electric light. Salt Lake City, Utah, the largest of the group reporting homes 100 per cent electrified.

FRENCH WAGES RISE AS FRANC FALLS; AND FOREIGNERS SPEND

North American Export Trade Hit by Disturbance, Bank Economist Explains; Frenchmen's "Flight From the Franc" a Feature as Currency is Spirited Across Border.

New York, Aug. 5.—What the fall in exchange value of the French franc which dropped almost to two cents and is now not quite three cents, means to North American wheat and United States cotton fields, and to factories of Anglo-Saxon countries, was told to the Associated Press to-day by George E. Roberts, vice-president of the National City Bank of New York.

He described how many wealthy Frenchmen have contrived to have plenty of ready spending money when they come to the United States. He explained the anomaly of the seeming business prosperity of France and foresees essential economic soundness within the French nation, to be had through its own efforts.

To the question of the effect of the franc's fall on North American business, he replied:

WAGE RISE LAGS BEHIND

"The incomes of the French people are in France. Six months ago a franc was rated at twenty-six to the dollar, but it required forty francs to buy a dollar's worth of anything. Wages have been rising, that is, Frenchmen have been getting more francs for their day's work, but the wage rise has not kept up with the speed of the fall in dollar purchasing power of the franc. French prices, too, have gone up, but not as the franc has fallen."

"France was the fourth largest purchaser of American cotton."

"The French mills imported 317,550 bales from this country in 1925. But cotton goods prices are rising in France faster than wages and faster than purely French products. The distribution of cotton in France, therefore is likely to be lessened."

WHEAT SUPPLY CURTAILED

"France will not harvest enough wheat to afford her people the accustomed supply, and the government will probably forbid the export of flour of low gravity. In like manner it will wish to limit the export of imports of all kinds of French goods to avoid the pressure on the franc, which results from payments abroad. Dispatches from Paris say that Paris officers of American and Canadian exporting concerns were doing very little business and thinking of reducing expenses."

"On the other hand the low value of the franc has the effect of cutting prices of goods of foreign production in world markets and is the worst kind of competition that other countries can have. French iron and steel manufacturers are reported sold up months ahead of capacity although the iron and steel business in most countries is depressed."

"To sum up, the declining value of the franc is a disturbing factor in all world markets, both as regards goods normally imported into France and as regards goods in the production of which France is a competitor with other countries."

MANY SHOW FORESIGHT

"How can Frenchmen whose money has been depreciated afford to come here as travelers or residents on French incomes?" Mr. Roberts was asked.

"A person whose income is in France," said the economist, "is suffering heavy losses if obliged to convert his currency into United States money. Of course there are numerous French who have had foresight enough to convert a portion of their fortunes into foreign investments. If they have American investments, for example, they are not affected by the decline of the franc. Efforts to do this have been an influence in the continuing decline of the franc."

In the foregoing explanation lies the reason for the origin of the depression "flight from the franc." The banker said that notwithstanding stringent embargoes it was impossible to prevent the flight of money from the franc borders. The flight from the franc has taken many forms. France has been stuffed in automobile tires and carried into Belgium to be sold on alien exchanges while stocks and other securities have been secretly carried out of France by travelers to be sold abroad. The flight of French money has run into untold millions. Mr. Roberts was told that returning travelers from France reported that country seemed prosperous with no unemployment and he was asked whether stabilization of the franc would check such prosperity.

FOREIGNERS SPEND FREELY

"The country is seemingly prosperous," said Mr. Roberts, "because foreigners spend freely."

TAKES POSSESSION OF DUNCAN PLANTS

Utilities Limited Operating Under 20-Year Franchise

Effective on August 1, Duncan Utilities Limited took over the water and electric plants of the city of Duncan under a twenty-year franchise agreement.

The $10,000 required to be deposited under the agreement was placed in the bank the previous day and the agreement, previously signed at Edmonton on behalf of the company, was signed in Duncan by Mayor J. Islay Muttter and James Greig, city clerk, on behalf of the city.

The change would not be noticeable to citizens in general, but the transfer, which became effective at midnight on Sunday, marks a new era in the operation of the utilities of the city.

The whole city staff in connection with the utilities was taken over by the company.

WIDER MARKETS FOR CANADIANS URGED

Mackenzie King Tells Regina Audience Farmers Should Have Big World Fields

Liberal Leader Addresses Election Meeting in Saskatchewan Capital

Regina, Aug. 5.—The policy of wider world markets for Canada promoted by the late Liberal Government should be proceeded with, Premier King urged here last night.

He declared the same kind of efforts should be put into the securing of foreign markets for the agriculturists as had been used to secure markets for the manufactured products of Canada.

Mr. King, who addressed a great meeting here, the first in his Federal election tour west of Winnipeg, had on the platform with him Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Premier of Saskatchewan, and Hon. Charles Dunning, late Federal Minister of Railways and now Liberal candidate in this city, both of whom spoke. Also on the platform were the members of the Saskatchewan Cabinet.

ROBB BUDGET

Mr. King, who was given a great reception, dealt with the features of the Robb budget.

"You know you have not to be told of the return of prosperity," he said.

To-day Canada had a favorable trade balance of $401,000,000, he stated.

NATIONAL RAILWAYS

Mr. King sharply criticized Premier Meighen's attitude toward the National Railways.

It has been said, declared Mr. King, that Mr. Meighen had only been temporarily appointed to the portfolio of Railways.

"Mr. Meighen has already begun to use the National Railways as a pawn to secure political support from one section of the country," said Mr. King.

"He is already making it wholly apparent he intends to dictate part of the policy of the railways system."

"If Mr. Meighen intends to keep Mr. Black in office only a short time he owes it to the people of the Maritime provinces and the people of the country as a whole to say who will be the next Minister of Railways."

POLICY ABANDONED

"Already it is clear," said Mr. King, "that the policy which the Liberal Party laid down of no interference with the president and board of directors of the railways system is one Mr. Meighen does not intend to carry out."

Under the Liberal administration the National Railways were becoming "one of the greatest national assets," he said. As Minister, Mr. Dunning had proved he was second to none as an administrator.

"I believe the people of Canada feel no better choice could have been made than Hon. Charles Dunning," said Mr. King.

Mr. King had nothing of personal criticism for Hon. W. A. Black, the present Minister, but he was a man nearly seventy-nine years of age and the Department was one which required all the energy of a much younger and more vigorous man.

CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUE

The former prime minister spoke of the constitutional question, defending his advice of dissolution to the Governor-General and appealing for the preservation of the constitution.

For two weeks Mr. Meighen alone had ruled over the domestic and foreign affairs of Canada, he said. "Is that Mr. Meighen or Mr. Mussolini?" called a voice.

"Mr. Mussolini would not have avoided an operation."

FOREST FIRES IN WESTERN ONTARIO

Toronto, Aug. 5.—A special dispatch from Hudson, Ont., to The Toronto Star says:

"Word reached Hudson late last night from Pine Ridge that some alarm was being felt regarding the forest fires in that district and that every available man had been called out to assist the rangers."

"One fire with more than a mile front was burning on Pakwash Lake, which is the first body of water out of Pine Ridge on the way to Red Lake. The other, which was burning with a front of more than two miles, was reported as Keg Lake, on the same waterway near Red Lake. Today the forestry branch called for men and equipment from Hudson."

VIEWS DECLARED BY MUNICIPAL LEADERS

More Federal Aid For Immigrants in Canada is Urged

London, Ont., Aug. 5.—Resolutions asking the Federal Government to consider the necessity for assisting in caring for immigrants during the first five years in Canada, requesting a change in the naturalization laws to make the granting of citizenship papers more impressive than it is now, urging the Federal and Provincial Governments to take definite action to assist in the transportation of coal from Alberta and Nova Scotia to the other provinces, and calling attention of the Federal Government to the necessity for taking steps to assume some responsibility where settlers on government land, and out of the way places leave their farms were passed at yesterday's sessions of the convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities here.

OFFICERS ELECTED
Lieut.-Col. Ralph H. Webb, D.S.O., Mayor of Winnipeg, was elected president of the Union, succeeding Controller H. Plant of Ottawa. Mayor L. D. Taylor of Vancouver, B.C., was chosen third vice-president.

SOVIET PROPAGANDA
Addressing a banquet last night, tendered the delegates, numbering 140, Mayor Webb of Winnipeg said, someone in Toronto favorable to the Russian Soviet is sending out "red" literature to all parts of Canada.

Declaring his attitude to be strong for Labor, he went on to say he was for "real, honest-to-God Labor, not the riff-raff."

"We've still got to fight for the things we fought for in the Great War," he declared.

Price Level up Fraction in Canada

Ottawa, Aug. 5 (Canadian Press)—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics index number, according to the commercial importance of the 236 commodities which are included in its computation rose slightly in July, being 154.2, as compared with 154.1 in June. Four of the eight main groups moved upward, one moved downward and three were stationary. Thirty-nine price quotations, the report states, were higher, thirty were lower and 147 were unchanged.

Vegetables and their products rose from 173.7 to 175.8, according to the bureau, chiefly because of higher levels for grains, fobber, rubber, hay and straw. Animals and their products declined from 137.5 to 135.5, due mainly to lower prices for livestock, butter and cheese.

MANY NEW LAWS ARE MADE IN ITALY

Mussolini Cabinet Will Have Parliament Approve Mass of Measures

Rome, Aug. 5.—The Cabinet, acting as a legislative and executive body and under the presidency of Premier Mussolini, approved fifty-five decree laws in less time than the ordinary legislature would take to discuss and pass one bill.

A session of three and a half hours, the third of three such meetings, has resulted in over 100 measures affecting every aspect of government administrative activity being dealt with. These measures go into effect immediately and the next session of the Legislature will merely go through the formality of approving them.

The most important of the new laws, so far as the Fascist state is concerned, is that covering public education. Thirty-five hundred rural school houses are ordered built, as well as a number of secondary schools to be established in conformity with the Government's programme ever to increase its emphasis on Italian nationality.

ARRESTS EXPECTED IN MURDER INQUIRY

New Jersey Police Try to Solve Killing of Pastor and Woman

Somerville, N.J., Aug. 5.—The situation in the revived Hall-Mills murder mystery was tense to-day with persistent reports that important developments were about to "break."

Detectives left the actual scene of the murder of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, choir singer, four years ago with the rumored purpose of rounding up missing witnesses and possibly serving warrants on new suspects.

Special Prosecutor Alexander Simpson declared several warrants had been sworn out, but admitted that "there may be one warrant issued for a new arrest."

Mrs. Frances Hall, charged with the murder of her minister husband, and his pretty choir singer, remained in seclusion in her New Brunswick home.

Mrs. Jane Gibson, the "pig woman" who was the chief witness in the first investigation, was still in her farm house under guard. She had requested to be protected from the curious.

In Jersey City Mr. Simpson spent yesterday investigating the disappearance of evidence from official files of the murder case. During the day he received a telephone call from Governor Moore, telling him to "have no pains to get at the truth of this matter."

He was told by Fred David, chief of detectives of Middlesex County, that the cuff buttons, shirt and collar worn by the Rev. Edward W. Hall when he was murdered four years ago are among the things missing.

These had been turned over to the Somerset County prosecutor, it was said, and Senator Simpson was told that six months ago a representative of Mrs. Frances Hall, who is under $15,000 bail accused of the murder of Dr. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, asked for the return of the cuff buttons "because the case was closed and she valued them as mementos." This request was refused by the state Attorney-General, Senator Simpson was told.

FLAG BATTLE AT DURBAN MEETING

Discussion of New Ensign For Union of South Africa Led to Blows

London, Aug. 5 (Canadian Press Cable)—A free fight occurred at a meeting in Durban, South Africa, over the flag question, according to a cable to The London Daily Express, and Colonel F. H. P. Creswell, Minister of Defence and Labor, who favors the proposed new national flag with the Union Jack excluded, was shouted down when he attempted to defend his stand. The fight was between supporters of the Hertog Government's proposed new flag and members of the Labor Party who want the Union Jack retained as the country's national flag. Several men were injured, and badly they were taken to a hospital.

Steel Was Taken From Boy's Lung

Boston, Aug. 5.—Edward Bibeau, a six-year-old boy of Plymouth, Massachusetts, was on the road to health to-day after undergoing an operation in which a two-inch screw was removed from his right lung. Dr. William J. Sheehan, assisted by two other surgeons, cut into the boy's trachea yesterday after a powerful X-ray had been used to locate the impediment. Through tubes they removed the screw and young Bibeau, whose life has been considered in grave danger, immediately resumed regular breathing.

Highway Fatality In Terminal City

Vancouver, Aug. 5.—An unidentified man known as "Alec" died in a hospital to-day from the effects of injuries sustained in an automobile accident last night. Two companions were badly hurt, but are expected to recover.

The car in which the men were riding buckled and overturned while proceeding across the Georgia Street viaduct.

NEW NAVAL ARSENALS IN U.S. PLANNED

Washington, Aug. 5.—A new naval arsenal at least 100 miles square for the Pacific Coast and a similar arsenal for the East Coast and Gulf of Mexico sections of the United States will be established if Congress follows the recommendations of the naval court which inquired into the disastrous explosion July 10 at the Lake Denmark, N.J., depot.

The findings, which also recommended the repairing of Lake Denmark to accommodate such small explosives as may be stored there, have been approved by Acting Secretary Robinson, who announced immediate steps would be taken to carry out the recommendations.

The court found lightning alone was responsible for the explosion, which caused twenty-three known deaths and injuries to fifty-two, with two marine corps privates still listed as missing.

The damage was placed at $47,000,000 and the value of salvaged munitions at $40,000,000.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE GIVEN C. A. HAYSMEIR IN PINGYANG, KOREA

Tokio, Aug. 5.—A dispatch to the newspaper Nichi Nichi from Pingyang, Korea, states Dr. C. A. Haysmeir, a medical missionary from the United States, convicted of a charge of cruelty, was sentenced to three months' imprisonment and the sentence was suspended.

Haysmeir branded a small Korean boy on both cheeks with acid some months ago after he had caught the lad stealing apples. The boy was branded with the Korean word meaning "thief." The act incensed the Korean public and Haysmeir, saying he had no idea the marks would be permanent, paid a sum of money to the boy's mother and made a public apology.

STILL ON RATIONS

ALTHOUGH IT IS USUALLY FOOLISH to pay undue regard to the vapors of the alarmist, since the reason for his existence is his capacity to manufacture scares, the fact that three countries in Europe are living under something approaching war regulations at this stage of the world's progress is not pleasant to contemplate.

Disciplinary measures at so late a date may be interpreted as a genuine recognition of realities, of adjustments long overdue; but there is always the danger that a tardy accounting may produce resentment that would not have been experienced if conditions had been faced nearer the time the obligations were incurred.

Take the case of France. As Sir Philip Gibbs recently pointed out, she has brought most of her troubles on herself because she has persistently refused to face what are, after all, the realities of arithmetic and bookkeeping. On the top of this, of course, some of her politicians have been neither honest with themselves nor with the people as a whole, while not a few French journalists have complicated matters by their newspaper campaigns of what have been described many times as "lies and illusions."

Italy's case is unique. For more than three years she has been in the hands of a dictator. Many students of political manipulation have marveled at what they consider the success of the Fascist experiment. Keen businessmen have examined the system in operation and have displayed almost vulgar haste to express their approval of it. Yet Mussolini finds it necessary to ask the Italian people to ration themselves and substitute war bread for the more toothsome variety which is made with imported flour. He has done this in order to restore the health of the Italian lira. This is the position twelve years after the outbreak of war and nearly eight years after its end. It hardly looks as if the removal of every form of opposition to Fascist dictatorship has been as successful as its supporters make out.

Belgium presents a somewhat different picture. Its internal economy to a certain extent is influenced by that of France. Its politics are much less turbulent even if its workers are no more energetic or thrifty. It faced the music earlier than did its neighbor and its industrial revival was marked more quickly than that of any European country. But it has had to resort to the mild dictatorship of its monarch. It, too, moreover, is rationing itself.

There is no necessity to introduce Canada or Great Britain to the picture which Europe presents. The Canadian dollar is at par and the pound sterling is also at par. There is no rationing in either country. Both are paying their debts. They started as soon as they could after the smoke of battle had cleared away. Is there not in this a clear proof of the success of the form of government under which they and the other countries in the Empire thrive and progress?

THE NEW "WORLD TEACHER"

NEXT MONTH MRS. ANNIE BESANT, veteran Theosophist leader, will come to America with J. Krishnamurti, the young Hindu whom she has proclaimed to be the new "World Teacher," whom the Christian world regards as Jesus of Nazareth. Krishnamurti, who is in his early twenties, is a Brahmin whom Mrs. Besant adopted and educated, his most recent intellectual training having been at Oxford. He has an unusually striking personality and appears to have the idea that he has a great mission to perform in the world.

But he is a long way from being purely spiritual. He plays golf and tennis. He likes jazz music, does the Charleston and, according to French newspapers, was a fairly regular patron of the cabarets in the south of France, where he spent his vacation, last Winter. And he dresses in the latest fashions. In these respects he is just a normal young man and, when interviewed recently, said so.

Mrs. Besant says these bodily manifestations are merely a passing phase in Krishnamurti's development. In time, she claims, the physical in him will give way to the spiritual. All theosophists do not accept her estimate of Krishnamurti or his mission. Some of them in fact have denounced both of them. But there can be no doubt that there will be a great flutter in certain circles when the young Brahmin with his aged leader reaches this continent, and he will have followers enough. But he is not the only young man alive whom some people believe to be the reborn Messiah, and from time to time we shall hear of others. We are ready to wager, however, that within the next thirty days Krishnamurti will be the most-discussed young man in America, and probably the most-discussed young man as well.

GENERAL McRAE'S CANDIDATURE

THE CONSERVATIVES OF NORTH Vancouver have selected Major-General McRae to carry their standard. He has taken on a pretty tough job. He said some very hard things about both political parties during the campaign which ended in the death of the party he led in the provincial contest two years ago.

General McRae's platform should make interesting reading. He has lately returned to this country from an extended visit to the United States and when he was interviewed in Winnipeg he said that "business conditions in Canada right now are very much better than in the United States and are steadily improving."

These observations, of course, were prompted by knowledge gained from personal investigation and comparison. They had no regard for party instructions. They do not at all agree with the public utterances which the leader of the party whose standard he has decided to carry is making every day. In fact only last night in Orillia the Prime Minister said "we are bleeding Canada white in order to make vast the commercial Colossus to the South."

After what he has said, prior to his nomination, of course, about conditions in the States, what will the General have to say about his leader's remarks?

FAMOUS BRITISH BANDS

THE VISIT OF THE FAMOUS COLD- stream Guards Band, which is now playing in Vancouver and will fill an engagement in Victoria next Monday afternoon and evening, calls to mind other celebrated military bands from the Old Country which have toured Canada and delighted the Canadian people with their splendid concerts. About twenty years ago an organization composed largely of musicians from the British Grenadiers, under the baton of Dan Godfrey, played to crowded houses in the old drill hall for three or four nights. In more recent times we have had concerts by the celebrated Scots Guards Band; but as far as we can recall this will be the first time the Coldstream Guards Band has visited Victoria. In this respect the eastern Canadian cities have been more fortunate, this and other renowned British bands not infrequently crossing the ocean to tour the more populous centres and to fill special engagements.

Although the fact that they bear the names of regiments famed in the history of their country surrounds them with an impressive glamor, this circumstance in turn calls for an equally imposing measure of merit. British guards' bands must be worthy in every way of the highest traditions of the historical regiments with which they are associated, and this axiom ensures performances by them of the best quality. They realize, too, that when they are on tour they must stand comparison with the bands of other countries; the magnificent bands of Austria, Germany, Italy and Spain in Europe, and Sousa's Creators' and the famous United States Marine bands on this continent. There is no record that they have suffered from the comparison.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THAT STEAL

From The Toronto Globe
The present Chicago diversion of lake water, The Chatham News submits, is of far more importance to Canada than most of the subjects being mentioned as probable "issues" in the coming general election.

WAS MR. MEIGHEN AFRAID?

(Extract from Mr. Mackenzie King's Ottawa Speech)
One would have thought that, in circumstances of the kind (Mr. Mackenzie King is speaking at Ottawa), Mr. Meighen should not have been able to find time short enough within which to tender his resignation as premier, and that of his ministry.
I pause here to remind the country of my advice to His Excellency after the last general election, with respect to the constitutional means of determining who was entitled to carry on the government of the country. It was all summed up in the words "let parliament decide," let the House of Commons express the will and wish of its members.

I here again make my appeal to British parliamentary practice and law. Is it conceivable that any prime minister in Britain, told by the House of Commons that the actions of his ministers were illegal, that they constituted an infringement of the privileges of its members, would presume to continue to advise the Crown? That he would not, in such circumstances, immediately resign? Above all, can it be imagined that he would advise the Crown to pay no heed to the House of Commons, to ignore altogether the voice of the people's representatives in parliament? Such a thing, I say, is wholly unbelievable. And yet, that precisely is the conduct of which Mr. Meighen, as prime minister, has been guilty and which he now asks the people of Canada to endorse.

But even yet that is not all. Having usurped power by undertaking to form a government which he knew would never and could never command the confidence of the House of Commons, having had his administration defeated and condemned, he then proceeds not merely to ignore and defy, but to insult the members of both houses of Parliament by summarily terminating the proceedings of Parliament itself, instead of so much as permitting His Excellency the Governor-General to come in person to prorogue Parliament prior to a dissolution.

And why did Mr. Meighen advise that arbitrary course? It was because he was afraid to have his discredited ministry again face Parliament. That much he admitted in conversation with the Progressive leader, Mr. Forke, who told him plainly what he thought of his courage.

May I remind the people of Canada that when I resigned as premier, the announcement of my resignation was made on the floor of Parliament and was communicated to their representatives in the House of Commons before it was made public from any other source.

The city of Milan at one time set the fashion for all Europe in matters of dress and art. Consequently a native of Milan or a "Milanese" was the dictator of style in whatever circle of the world he chose to frequent. Hence a corruption of the term "miliner" has become attached to dealers in ladies' hats, feathers and ribbons.

VETERINARIANS WIND UP BIG CONVENTION

Delegates See City's Beauty Spots at Conclusion of Business Sessions

Veterinarians of the Pacific Northwest wound up their international convention here yesterday with a tour of some of Victoria's famous beauty spots. After concluding their business sessions the delegates were taken for a drive about the city in the afternoon by local veterinarians. Among other places they visited Hatley Park and the Butchart Gardens at Todds Inlet. They expressed delight at the beauty of the city's environs.
The final business session in the Parliament Buildings was featured by the address of Dr. Floyd Antles of Seattle, who told of that city's success in the inspection of meat to be used for public consumption. The value of veterinarians in this work was stressed.
Most of the delegates left on last night's boat for the mainland, while others are going home to-day.

HUNDREDS ATTEND ESQUIMALT PICNIC AT BEAVER LAKE

Merchants of Municipality Sponsor Successful Outing

Many Novel Events Add to Enjoyment of Day

The Esquimalt Merchants' Association beat their own record yesterday, when nearly six hundred guests were conveyed by trolley to Beaver Lake, there to enjoy one of the most successful picnics ever organized in Esquimalt.

The party made an early start from Esquimalt at 9:30 o'clock, arriving at the picnic grounds in good time to have the sports for the occasion. The merchants, who were the serious business of preparing lunch. Every contestant under eight years received a prize.
After lunch the picnic was formally opened by Rev. R. P. Matheson, who heartily congratulated the merchants on the success of their enterprise. He said that owing to so many residents having their business interests in Victoria it had been difficult to unite the people of Esquimalt in community activities, and so in recent years the work of organizing and financing these annual picnics had been entirely in the hands of the merchants, and under their management had become the great event of the summer.

CO-OPERATION
R. H. Pooley, M.P.P., declared that it was always a great pleasure to him to attend the merchants' picnic. He said that his theme on this occasion would be co-operation. He felt that nothing was more important to any community or to any country, than a spirit of unity in the people. The merchants were giving a self advertisement to Esquimalt by demonstrating to neighbors that the people of Esquimalt could get together in such numbers to enjoy these events.
Mrs. R. H. Pooley distributed the tombola prizes. Sixty lucky individuals were the recipients of useful articles and there was much comment on the generosity of the merchants in giving hams, sides of

Easy to Gain With Yeast and Iron

New Combination of Yeast with Vegetable Iron Quick Way to Build Up Weight

This new combination of yeast vitamins with vegetable iron renews the action of sluggish blood, drives out dangerous body poisons, increases energy and endurance and supplies the system with the vitamins that build up weight.
For years yeast has been known as a rich vitamin food, but not until we perfected "Ironized yeast," which comes in concentrated tablet form, was it possible to take yeast and iron in the right proportions to build up weight.
Vegetable "iron" when combined with yeast is quite easy to digest, therefore better for the system. And "yeast" when ironized, becomes just twice as beneficial as ordinary fresh or cake yeast.
Ironized Yeast tablets are composed of concentrated food elements, therefore, they are pleasant to take and free from drug-like effects. If you are under weight, do not enjoy good health, lacking in energy and force, "ironized yeast" tablets will pick you right up, and if they fail, you get your money back.

Sold by druggists at $1.00 for a large 40-tablet package or sent direct from laboratory on receipt of price. Ironized Yeast Co., Port Erie, Ontario, Canada. (Adv.)

bacon, sacks of flour and pieces of furniture in addition to the long lists of prizes given for competition in sports.
A contest which caused great interest was the discovery of the "hiker man," who was finally located by Mrs. Kate Knowles. Capt. Johnson secured the prize for the oldest gentleman present, claiming to have passed his eighty-seventh birthday, though he appears more like a hale man of sixty. Mrs. Horsfield, who carried off the prize for the oldest lady, also bears her years lightly.
The prizes for the "largest family" on the field had to be duplicated, the honor being shared by Mrs. Oliver and Mrs. Harper.
Besides the sports events swimming was enjoyed, and the sandy beach and safe bathing conditions were greatly appreciated by both kiddies and their parents.
The Boys' Naval Brigade Band played at intervals all day, and their spirited performance proved a great attraction.

YOUR BABY and MINE

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

NIGHT OWL BABIES

This plea for the babies was inspired by a letter, which I received from a father recently. Said father has occasion to be away from home a lot and spends his lonesome evenings at the "movies." He is seeing and deploring constantly the number of babies and very young children who are dragged to the movies at night with the parents. What can be done about it?

One has to realize that there are two sides to every question and the tired mother is not to be overlooked; but this is a great huge "but"—the baby comes first. Babies do sleep—but it isn't a restful sleep, dressed in their full attire and on the hard and inevitably hot lap of one or the other of their parents. Also, and this must be considered, the excitement incident on such adventures will make the baby wakeful when he is in bed, and then the tired mother wonders why he won't sleep.

Small children are aroused to a pitch of excitement by the "movies" that is anything but conducive to restful slumber. Such excitement should never precede the bed hour, they may be directly responsible for night terrors of which the nervous and highly-strung child is frequently a victim.

Whatever pleasure the mother gets out of evenings at the cinema she pays for dearly in the health of her child, his increased nervousness, irritability and wakefulness. It would be far better for her to exchange places with some neighbor and offer to take care of her sleeping babies for one evening a week so that each may enjoy an evening free from care and the worry that they are making their children suffer for their pleasure.

WOMAN GIVEN FOUR MONTHS FOR ROLLING STOCKINGS IN STREET

New York, Aug. 5.—Rolling her stockings on Fourteenth Street, just off Fifth Avenue, cost Miss Frances Rathoway three months in the workhouse.

"Women should not roll their stockings in public," the court ruled. "The scanty apparel they wear nowadays is sufficient to attract attention without their doing other things that will cause men to look at them," the judge declared.

Your meringue will be evened and of a much more inviting color if you cook it in a slow oven.

SOCIAL PERSONAL

WOMEN'S SECTION AT WILLOWS FAIR IS COMPREHENSIVE

Mrs. H. Crocker in Charge of Varied and Interesting Exhibits; Institutes Busy

Every phase of the varied work undertaken by women will be seen at the Willows Fair when that annual exhibition opens August 16. The Women's Building promises to be more interesting than ever this year, thanks to Mrs. H. Crocker, who is in charge of this section, and who has enlisted the co-operation of many organizations as well as individuals to ensure the success of the departments devoted to women's work.

In the downstairs section of the women's building there will be a display by Mrs. Dennis Harris, who is preparing a most comprehensive exhibit of British Columbia woolens in the various processes of manufacture from the raw state to the finished garment. A special display of furs made from B.C. rabbits will also prove interesting.

INSTITUTE EXHIBITS
The Women's Institutes always rally well to the call of the Fair. This year will see excellent displays by Colwood, Royal Oak and Victoria W.I. Equinault W.I. which has hitherto been one of the leading exhibitors in the institute section will not show this year. Its efforts having been devoted to its own very successful show at Equinault recently.

A number of Institutes, additional to those showing, will lend valuable assistance at the luncheon given at the Fair, those helping including Langford, represented by Mrs. Brindley and helpers; South Saanich by Mrs. Nimmo; Victoria by Miss Ravenhill; Equinault, Mrs. Brooker; Happy Valley and Luxton, Mrs. Hall; Metchoin, Mrs. Taylor.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE
On the ground floor of the building there will also be a fine display of domestic science by the women of B.C. to raise $80,000 to endow a chair of domestic science at the University of British Columbia. There will also be a comprehensive needlework section and laundry section.

Upstairs will be devoted to the largest exhibition of art that has ever been seen at the Fair. Professional and amateur photographers will both have fine displays. There will be in charge of an exhibit of pottery made in B.C. from local clays, and there will also be a fine collection of painted china.

Old timers as well as newcomers will find much of historic interest in a series of pictures of old Victoria, loaned by A. H. Maynard, showing local scenes and people in the early days.

Miss Robinson and Miss Keast are arranging an exhibition by the children of their classes, and another series of particular interest to the little ones will be the Junior Red Cross booth.

Demonstrations of Denison art are being arranged by Diagon's, and there will be free classes for women each afternoon during the fair week.

WOMAN CHOSEN AS FEDERAL CANDIDATE

Progressives Nominate Mrs. Sidney Banks, Ontario; Second in Canada

Alliston, Ont., Aug. 5.—"A person who lived 60 years ago returning to earth would not recognize any of the modern methods except in the House of Parliament—where they would be perfectly at home," stated Miss Agnes MacPhail, former member of Parliament for Southeast Grey, Ontario, speaking here at the Dufferin-Simcoe Progressive convention, which chose Mrs. Sidney Banks of Alliston, Ontario, as candidate in the coming Federal election.

Criticizing the present form of government in Canada, Miss MacPhail charged that some of the funds for both provincial parties in the House of Commons were supplied by breweries. "The big interests, I objected the cabinets whether the members were Liberals or Conservatives. Party men, she said, saw nothing unless it was placed before their eyes."

She hoped the next parliament would be like the last, with no party having complete control. Then a new form of government would be inaugurated having co-operation as its keynote. An alliance between the Liberal and Progressive parties, Miss MacPhail said, would mean the older party swallowing up the Progressives.

Major Leslie to Show Sketches of Hawaiian Islands

An interesting collection of sketches made in Honolulu and other parts of the Hawaiian Islands by Major Leslie will be shown in the Arts and Crafts Rooms, Union Bank Building on Saturday afternoon. In showing his collection, Major Leslie is acceding to numerous requests from former residents and visitors to the Hawaiian Islands, and anyone interested is invited to attend. Afternoon tea will be served, and admission will be free.

To Hold Quilting Bee—Victoria Women's Institute will hold a quilting bee on Friday, August 6, instead of the usual social, in the new rooms, 101 Union Bank Building. The committee in charge hope to get the quilt finished on Friday in readiness for the exhibition. As many members as can possibly do so are asked to attend.

Germaine's New Paris Dress Is of Pink Muslin, She Writes

The pink muslin that is Germaine's "most gorgeous dress."

Paris, Aug. 5.
MY very dear cousin:
Certainly I do hope you are finding the mountains a welcome relief from the mid-summer heat. We are considering a trip to Desautels, but there will be so many Americans there next month, prices will be so prohibitive, and it may be out of the question.
I am to see Jacques to-night, and I have a new frock—a present from Louise, that I am most eager to don for him.
Jacques is very observing, and notices always when my clothes are new and when they please him. Jimmy takes close to granted, saying in his generous way that I always look charming in anything I wear. This is not so, at we both know, but it is comforting.
MOST GORGEOUS FROCK
This frock is the most gorgeous one I have ever owned. The material is pink muslin—too delicate and transparent for words, and the full skirt is simply festooned with the most heavenly flowers in shades of French blue, pink and rose.
I'm sending you a picture of it so you can see those perfectly adorned wristbands that fit so closely

CLUB AND NEWS

BLUE EYES GIVEN PLACE OF HONOR

Black and Brown Beautiful But Not Healthy, Says Lecturer

Black eyes, brown, or hazel may be beautiful to look at but as an indicator of health, they are not as good as the blue eye that possesses an even silky texture. This was the statement made by Dr. J. D. Levine, editor of The Health Messenger, who lectured last night at the New Thought Temple on the "Human Radio—Science's Greatest Discovery."

He called his work "Iriology" and explained that it means the study of the iris.

The iriologist simply studies the various spots and lines in the iris, he said, and determines whether the person has a weakened heart, lung, or other organic disturbances. With him turns them over to a doctor to build up that weakened or toxic condition.

The blue eye, with which not only children but kittens and other young are born with, indicates nature's effort to keep the body clean, he stated. White lines in the eye indicate inflammations, and people possessing eyes with too many white lines should abstain from all acid fruits. Grey-eyed persons should not use salt, bread, cereals, as they are acid producers as well as white of eggs.

Brown eyes, according to Dr. Levine, show toxemia and he stated that people with fuzzy brown eyes should not use any meat, milk or eggs until the eye becomes lighter in color.

about the wrist, and are completely divorced from any sleeve.

Never have I had anything so picturesque and decorative. The pink straw hat with blue and pink velvet streamers, I come as near feeling like a dangerous woman as I shall ever get, I fear.

Jacques will adore this frock, I know.

Aunt Louise and I, out shopping, saw marvelous costumes. I advise you by all means to get a frock with a tiny bolero of antique material. These Oriental embroidered silks and brocades are apparently the newest note in fashions and are combined with chiffons and velvets for evening and afternoon wear.

Both of us were amazed at the amount of heavy material—filigree work in gold and silver, Genoa velvet and taffetas being shown. Our Cecile Sorel, of whom we are so proud, triumphed the other night at the ball of the Grand Prix at the opera in one of these stately costumes.

Such gorgeousness and elegance makes our simple frocks a bit meagre-looking. After all, there is a strain of the peacock in us. And after such severity of dress to-night in honor of Jacques's return. You see she is very fond of him, and she is always as attracted to romance—and I fear to intrigue. Devo her interest in Jimmy's fortune, her patriotism, as well as her preference makes her favor Jacques in my little triangle of the moment.

Now I must stop, as Georgette is waiting to marcel my hair. I must say, I am taking more pains to appear at my best than I have in a long time.

Hastily, GERMAINE.

CHILDREN PERFORM AT SUMMER SCHOOL

Delightful Programme by the Pupils of Demonstration School

Lovers of children spent a delightful afternoon on Tuesday at Victoria High School when the various grades of the Demonstration School gave proof of the excellent work done in a programme comprising dancing, choral music and history in dramatized form. Perhaps the most outstanding feature of the whole entertainment was the enthusiastic participation of the children in the items put on, their engaging spontaneity, their scarcely suppressed excitement till their particular number should come off. It is the cultivation of this spontaneity, this keen participation, this initiative on the part of the children which constitutes the dramatic history lesson a most zealous and unforgettable experience.

After a few appropriate remarks by John Kyle, director of the Summer School, a thoroughly delightful programme was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

SOCKEYE SALMON ARE INCREASING

Decided Improvement in This Year's Run in Fraser River
Is Forecasted

New Westminster, Aug. 5.—According to reports from the fisheries department, the sockeye salmon are increasing in numbers in the Fraser River, and a decided improvement of the run is seen. Fishermen are receiving 65 cents per fish for the sockeyes.

Springs are also much improved, and are reported in splendid condition, reds bringing ten cents per pound and white two cents. Reports from fishery attendants in the interior show that the sockeyes are beginning to reach their spawning grounds. A few were reported at Bridge River Canyon and a good number are passing through Hell's Gate, but fear is held that the fish will experience difficulty in the event of the waters of the Fraser River falling lower.

Liners Resold to Japanese Interests

San Francisco, Aug. 5.—The former American-Hawaiian Line steamers Honolulu and Colorado, which were sold recently to the General Metals Company, have been resold to Japanese interests. The vessels are two of the oldest of the American-Hawaiian Line steamers, and according to the terms of the sale they are to be taken off the coast.

The N.Y.K. liner Siberia Maru from the Orient arrived here this morning, one day ahead of schedule. The Siberia had 213 passengers and a large cargo of raw Japanese silk.

ALBERTA CONTROLS TWO RAIL SYSTEMS

Edmonton, Aug. 5.—Full ownership of the Edmonton, Dunsmuir & British Columbia Railway and the Central Canada Railway now rests with the Alberta Government, which will proceed to deal with other interests for their future operation or, as an alternative, will operate them as a public enterprise. The ownership rights have been secured in consideration of $1,750,000, which has been paid over to the Royal Bank in final settlement of its claim of $2,400,000 and accrued interest. Complete control of both railway lines thus passes to the province.

C.P.R. SEAMERS COAL TOGETHER IN VANCOUVER HARBOR

Princess Patricia Rams Princess
Charlotte While Latter
Vessel is at Dock

Vancouver, Aug. 5.—While docking here at Pier D. Wednesday the Nanaimo flyer Princess Patricia buffered against the Princess Charlotte and dented one of her stern plates above the waterline, causing the latter steamer a short delay in sailing on the tourist run to Skagway.

Careful inspection by port authorities resulted in permission being granted to maintain the scheduled sailing, as the damage in no way injured the hull of the vessel.

The Princess Patricia was ordered to proceed to Esquimalt for inspection, as her sharp bow took the force of the blow above water line.

Capt. McMurray announced Wednesday night that the Princess Victoria would take the Patricia's run across the Gulf while repairs were made.

In order to undergo a thorough survey the Princess Patricia was hauled out on the marine slip of the Victoria Machinery Depot this morning at 10:30 o'clock. The "Pat" arrived at the V.M.D. early this morning following the accident in Vancouver.

This afternoon officials of the V.M.D. will give the Patricia a survey and give an estimate of the damage.

At present the only discernible damage on the Pat is that done to her bow, which rammed head on into the Princess Charlotte. The sharp prow of the Vancouver-Nanaimo flyer has been pushed back right from the water line to the top of her deck. However, Victoria Machinery Depot officials state this morning that through the force of the impact a number of the Patricia's frames may have been forced out of position.

Nanaimo

Nanaimo, Aug. 5.—C. H. O'Halloran, Liberal candidate for the Nanaimo riding, addressed a meeting here Tuesday. John Ovington occupied the chair. After making preliminary arrangements for the coming election, the candidate outlined the various planks on his platform, which he expects to present to the electorate of the riding. At the close of the meeting Mr. O'Halloran was given the assurance that he had the unanimous support of Nanaimo Liberals.

The Nanaimo baseball team continued their string of victories by defeating the Timberland team today by 10 to 2. The visitors from the Timberlands put up a very poor exhibition of ball, quite the reverse from their usual brand, and presented the local team with runs through poor fielding and pegging.

The Nanaimo boys on the other hand put up a fine game both in the field and at bat, and deserved their win. In view of the showing being made by the Nanaimo baseball team local fans are of the opinion that exhibition games with outside teams would be quite in order, the brand of ball being equal to that played in the senior "B" series of the mainland.

Shareholders of the Nanaimo Community Hotel will hold their first meeting in the Bijou Theatre Thursday night, to discuss matters of importance in connection with the new project will be discussed.

Constructive Psychology Applied

"As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he," said the Great Master. In his heart—His Power House. We all are powerful, and we use our power wisely, misuse it or abuse it. Power is neither good nor bad, it is just IS. The successful man has used it wisely, the unsuccessful man has used it unwisely, perhaps, but a law broken in ignorance is still a broken law. Failures are the result of misused or unused power. The real secret of power is consciousness of power. We must first realize we possess it and then consider how to use it. Take the power of electricity, someone had to become aware of its existence, realize it, harness it, and lo—what wonders are performed. It was there when they carried lanterns to light up the street and rush lights to light their dwellings, the joy of finding we have power to mould our lives, that we can be "Master of Our Fate" is in this case the banking law) and to produce proof of it being mine, and so it is with power, we must first realize we have it, and then find the law to release it, make it our servant and now allow it to be our master any longer. The power of electricity is a form of motion, and it depends on the effect on the mechanism to which it is attached. It will run our railways, illuminate our cities, cook our food, give us music, light and heat our homes, run machinery. If through ignorance or carelessness we misuse it, it will destroy and kill. "Use determines all things."

FUMIGATION PLANT DAMAGED BY FLAMES

Fire Broke Out at William
Head Quarantine Station
During Fumigation

While fumigating the steamer Golden Gate in the early hours of Tuesday morning the fumigation plant at the Dominion Government quarantine station located at William Head caught fire, through some unknown reason, and only for the fine work of Captain Davies and his crew of the Golden Gate, considerable damage might have resulted through the blaze.

The conflagration started between 2:30 o'clock and 3 o'clock and it was 4:45 o'clock before the crew of the vessel had the fire under control. It appears that the fire broke out in the engine room of the fumigation plant located on a small wharf where the ships tie up in order to undergo fumigation. As soon as the fire was discovered Capt. Davies sent his crew and two hoses were immediately played on the fire with the Golden Gate's big pumps working at full speed.

Part of the wharf was burned to the water's edge, while considerable damage was done to the fumigation plant. The fire of the Golden Gate, facing the wharf was badly scorched while the paint on a couple of the large ventilators and on one side of the funnel was all blistered. Nine ventilators were cracked while the paint on one of the lifeboats was badly scorched. Part of the tar between the decks also oozed out, but through the intense heat, but no material damage was done to the ship.

Heated Discussions In Major Baseball

American League Teams Fighting All Out to Try and Overtake New York Yankees; Uhle, Cleveland, is Successful in Putting Them Down by 4-2 Count in Crucial Encounter; Washington and Detroit Engage in Two Wild Extra Inning Games; Cubs Win by Four Homers

New York, Aug. 5.—Scalps have been taken in the Indians' desperate stand against their most powerful American League foe, the New York Yankees.

George Uhle, big left-handed chief of the Cleveland staff, yielded the bloodiest tomahawk in yesterday's conquest of the New York team 4-2 and today his warriors are only nine games away from the American League leaders. While this first of the crucial games was going on, Washington and Detroit locked in one of the most heated baseball discussions of the year, the Tigers capturing the first game in ten innings, 5-4, and the Senators the second in eleven innings, 11-7. Joe Harris of Washington hit two homers during the day, his second settling the issue by scoring three runs in the final inning of the second game.

Bill Barrett inserted a very impressive homer in the seventh to give the White Sox a 7-3 margin over Boston.

Senie Nevers allowed the Athletics eight scattered hits and the St. Louis Browns won 3-1. Ken Williams hitting a homer.

Cincinnati runners-up in the National, rested while Pittsburgh divided a double bill with Boston, the Pirates now holding a lead of one full game.

At Brooklyn the score was Sherdel 8, Brooklyn 4. Left-handed Bill of the Cardinals permitted eight hits but drove out a homer, triple and double. He scored two runs and batted in three, enough to win the game.

Cowles featured the Chicago Cubs 12-innings victory over Philadelphia 7-5.

COAST LEAGUE
Vancouver, Aug. 5.—Seattle hammered three Los Angeles hurlers in a Pacific Coast League game here yesterday afternoon to win over the Angels, 11-3. Los Angeles connected for eleven hits, but could not get over the tallies. The game yesterday was the first of Seattle's home games to be transferred here once a week during the remainder of the season, and there was a good turnout of fans.

BEAVERS GET BREAKS
Portland, Aug. 5.—Portland turned the tables on the Seals yesterday by the identical score of Tuesday, but reversed, 5-4. Kaufman pitched fine ball, but was wild, and the Beavers got the breaks. In the later innings the Seals were helpless before Baumgartner's peculiar cross-fire delivery.

MISSION WIN ON ERROR
San Francisco, Aug. 5.—Mission evened up the series with Oakland at one-all yesterday by winning 3-1 in a game featured by a pitching duel between the left-handers Bert Cole and Herb Pruett, of the visitors. An error by first baseman Guisto in the eighth when he bobbed Jones's grounder, allowed a runner on third base to score, thus breaking a tie.
Boone crossed the plate in the same inning on Slade's sacrifice.

SACS HIT HARD
Los Angeles, Aug. 5.—Sacramento battered three Hollywood pitchers for twenty-one hits, including three home runs, here yesterday to defeat the Stars 15 to 7. The Senators piled up a nine-run lead off McCabe and Huzy in the first two innings. Ray Keating held the Stars in check until the ninth, and also lined out a homer.

Giant Tyees Are Striking Spoons at North Points

From Comox comes the first report of the tyee salmon run. The fish were caught there this morning and more of them during the day. Fishermen are out in numbers along the path of the fish, fighting and struggling to land the game of salmon. Those who have not yet been able to take to the water are preparing for the day. This was the message flashed over the wire from the North this morning to the Victoria Publicity Bureau and which Frank Gloima, publicity man, immediately commenced to broadcast.

The commencement of the Tyee run invariably brings a large number of pleasure-loving tourists from afar-off to taste of the spirit of victory and learn of the courage of the great fish native to British Columbia's cold coast waters.

Final Meeting of Sons and Travelers At Park To-night

Senior Ball League Teams
Hook up in Crucial Encounter

To-night baseball fans will witness the final meeting of the Sons and the Sons of Canada in the senior amateur baseball league schedule this season. They will probably allow the tie to go to the league standing. Due to the Eagles' 4-3 victory over the natives on Monday evening it was figured that the Travelers had the league championship sewn up in their bags, but a hitch has occurred in the proceedings owing to a protest being filed by the game by the Sons. This was due to the playing by the Eagles of Durkee, an unregistered player, who had therefore no right to be on the field.
In the case of the protest being allowed the Sons will still have a slim chance of coping the league honors.
Parfitt is the only man who can be really used effectively against the Travelers, according to the calculations of the Sons' manager, so he will step out this evening to pitch his fast ones over Norman Forbes will pitch for the Travelers.

The game will start at 6:15 o'clock at the Royal Athletic Park with Alie
McGregor and Bob Whyte in charge.

British Columbia Makes It Three In A Row at Edmonton

Cricketers From This Province Once More Win in Western Tournament

Edmonton, Aug. 5.—British Columbia's representatives shot out to the front in the race for the Western Canada cricket championship here yesterday by marking up their third straight victory in as many starts, defeating Alberta by the narrow margin of four runs by a score of 141 to 137.

At the same time Manitoba was taking a firm hold on second place by winning from Saskatchewan 161 for eight, to 161.

The Alberta-British Columbia game was the most exciting of the series to date, and the issue was in doubt until the last wicket fell. Dawson, who had forty to his credit, and was high-scoring for B.C., was misled in the field before he had scored a run.

Alberta opened well enough, and the first wicket fell at 14, and then Thomson and Palek came together and with Thomson hitting finely, 44 was on the board before a separation was effected. Thomson was out to a great catch by Wenman after contributing 53. The rest of the batsmen brought the score up steadily, but could not get enough, and were out at 137.

Saskatchewan scored 101 against Manitoba in the forenoon, 58 by Strutton, 22 by Foster, and 16 by Wade being the big factors in the total. Manitoba went to bat in the afternoon. After three were down for fourteen, Bligh and Davis made a fine stand, and carried the total to 72, and later on a partnership between Bingham and Gillespie raised it from 95 to 161.

Weston Team Stages Invincible Rally For Connaught Cup

Lone Goal From Boot of Lang, Injured Forward, Gives 'Peg' Team Connaught Trophy

Cumberland Team Has Control of Play Nearly All the Time But Fail in Pinch

Special to The Times
Winnipeg, Aug. 5.—The United Weston team of Winnipeg, by scoring the only goal of the game, gained possession of the English Football Association's new trophy, emblematic of the Dominion championship, here to-night after one of the finest series in the history of soccer in Canada.

It took four games to decide the location of the beautiful trophy and the Canadian Colliery team from Cumberland went down to defeat fighting gamely. A verdict for the B.C. team would have been a better reflection of the play, but as has always been the custom of the Winnipeggers, when opportunity presented itself in the closing minutes of play and Johnny Lang banged in the tally that gave the Weston team the 1-0 victory.

Nearly ten thousand people enacted the most enthusiastic scenes ever witnessed in the city when the goal was scored and two minutes later when Bill Hetherington blew the whistle for time one reflected scenes similar to the day of the signing of the armistice.

FIGHTING GAMELY
The game was hardly up to the standard of the previous matches but was replete with exciting passages.

Cumberland led the upper hand for fully seventy minutes but were held out by brilliant work between the 'Peg' upstarts. Young Ed. Deane was handling the hot handball that seemed ordinarily to be tickled for the net.

The Colliery team were on the ball and indulged in elaborate passing methods that left the Weston team standing still at times. They tied Dunc Watson, the local scoring ace, up so well that he hardly had a shot on the goal. At half time the fans were conceding the result to the coast team, but never will the fans forget the attack that the Weston team launched in the final twenty minutes. "Even the ranks of Tuscany could scarce forbear to cheer." The boys were simply fighting like tigers and the break came.

Twice in succession they hit the post, after beautiful attacks, and then Johnny Lang, at inside left, the youth who spent the last two days in the hospital, came in fast to place the deciding goal beyond Tate.

Monaghan, Fowler, Davies and Hetherington were great, while Deane in goal for Weston played the game of his career. The King brothers along with McIntosh, the Land brothers, and Hetherington were the best of the champions.

ENTHUSIASTIC FAREWELL
Over five hundred fans, as well as all the Weston team and officials, were at the depot to bid farewell to the Cumberland boys as they pulled out of the station. They left a deep impression in the city with the sportsmanlike qualities they displayed. Bill Hetherington of Regina, who gave splendid service as referee, testified that he had never handled or seen games as clean as the one played here. He said he was speaking of the final attempt of the Weston team to win the championship. "Even I found it difficult to keep up with the attack, it was magnificent."

Suzanne Forced to Quit Amateur Ranks States Bill Tilden
Seabright, Aug. 5.—Suzanne Lenglen was compelled to retire from the amateur tennis ranks because she realized "she is through as a tournament player" in the opinion of William T. Tilden, expressed here to-day.

Tilden voiced the belief that Miss Lenglen now realizes that her temperament is not fitted for her to continue in amateur fold and for the reason withdrew from the last Wimbledon tournament. He said he saw no possibility of professional tennis succeeding unless seven or eight of the first ten players, both men and women, following Suzanne's lead. The national title holder denied a story that she had considered following in Miss Lenglen's steps in turning professional.

HOW TO SWIM
by Helen Cameron

How The Hands Are Cupped

In perfecting the overhand stroke, one's arm should be to make as little splash as possible and to swim with as little effort as possible.

The hands should be very slightly cupped so that each strikes the water with an appreciable "plop" and without splashing.

If this is attained, the arm will make no splash. The best idea is to think of the stroke as "shoving" the arm and hand into the water rather than striking the water with the open hand.

The scissors kick in this stroke should be synchronized with the movements of the hands just as in the dog-paddle.

The breathing should also be in the same co-ordination as in the dog-paddle. This is not a standardized stroke, but one very generally used when not trying for speed. Coaches call it incorrect, but it is much used.

Frank S. Provides Colwood Surprise

Running Against Jack Fairman, Crescent, Virginia Carlton and Such Class, V. & G. Stable Horse is Winner of Saanich Handicap; Was Easily Best at Four and One-half Furlongs But Tired Fast; Raymond Bradley in Sixth Race is Only Other Bad Upset; Molter Rides Two Winners

Frank S. provided the big upset at Colwood Park race track yesterday when, piloted by Jockey Hay in the fourth race, he raced home victor over Crescent, Jack Fairman and other horses of class, and paid $32.85 for a two dollar ticket. By losing out on the first day when he was a red hot favorite, Frank S. lost his prestige with the public and when in such good class to-day, was figured not good enough to get in the money, being rated seventh in the odds.

But with a fine start in his favor and plenty of vim, he ate up the first three furlongs easily and had a good three-length lead which was enough to keep Crescent and Jack Fairman away from him in the stretch while he tired. Jack Fairman, carrying his usual parcel of heavy weight, 132 pounds, was well up all the way round, but not good enough to get in the money. Crescent, the place horse, was an outsider and paid $13.35 for a place ticket. The three first horses always outdistanced the rest of the field, although the remainder closed strong at the finish.

At the conclusion of the race, which was named the Saanich Handicap, the owner of Frank S. was presented with a handsome silver trophy awarded specially for this race. In addition to the cup there was the purse with a value of $500. The only other horse in the race was in the sixth when Raymond Bradley, excellently ridden by Corbett, beat out Nebraska in a long stretch drive and paid $25.00 to win. Nebraska and My Rose, the favorite, came along fast but were not good enough to get in front.

Favorites had a good day in the other races and were seldom left out of the money. In the second and third races the first choices were just outside the post, but the second and third horses, home, Singapore and Pawkrocker, the second and first favorites came in in the order named in the fifth.

It was a favorite which captured the first race, Irish Jury, the first choice, and Dark Ages, the second favorite, got off to a fast start, but until the stretch, Blue Miss was too much for Dark Ages and Irish Jury. Irish Jury jumped into a good lead and led in the stretch, but the two horses both finished fast and beat out Dark Ages, taking the place and show money, respectively. Irish Jury paid her backers $15.00 for a nose bet. Laura, a 2 to 1 shot, paid a nice looking $7.65 to those who had enough confidence to back her for a show.

In the second race, which put the leading horse, Fleet, the favorite, down, and let George Starr, second choice, get off to a fast start, but until the stretch, Blue Miss was too much for Dark Ages and Irish Jury. Irish Jury jumped into a good lead and led in the stretch, but the two horses both finished fast and beat out Dark Ages, taking the place and show money, respectively. Irish Jury paid her backers $15.00 for a nose bet. Laura, a 2 to 1 shot, paid a nice looking $7.65 to those who had enough confidence to back her for a show.

WEDNESDAY CRICKET TEAMS
Play Tight Game; Individual Scores Are Fairly High

One of the closest games of the season resulted when the Tillicums met and defeated the Five C's yesterday afternoon at Beacon Hill Park by 115 runs to 115. For the winners Baker put on top score of the day, 41, which with a useful looking 28 by Wilkinson and fair scores on the part of the other batsmen, boosted the total just enough to give them victory.

Four batsmen did most of the scoring for the Five C's, the being: Muncy, c Donaldson b Barbour, 27; Martin b Fletcher, 27; Martin b Fletcher, 27; Martin b Fletcher, 27.

NEW MIX PICTURE AT COLUMBIA TO-DAY A SUPER-THRILLER

Tom Mix, the modern Buffalo Bill, rode into town last night in his latest William Fox screen attraction, "The Yankee Senor," showing at the Columbia, adapted from the novel, "The Conquistador," by Katharine Fullerton Gerould. Tom has never made a more picturesque nor a more thrilling motion picture than this one.

Tony, Tom's wonder horse, again proves that he is the peer of all equine actors and he dashes through the six reels of pictorial drama with all his old-time speed and haughtiness.

In "The Yankee Senor" Mix is seen as a college-bred American of part Spanish parentage, who goes to Mexico to visit a relative who owns one of the largest and finest haciendas below the Rio Grande. This relative is without a legitimate son to "carry on" at the palatial estate.

Tom is given a royal greeting by the ruler of the hacienda and for many weeks he enjoys himself amid its Spanish splendor. Even before he realizes it he is being ruled by the Spanish blood that flows in his veins.

CHAPLIN MASTER OF COMEDY PRANKS IN LATEST ROLE

"Oh, What a Nurse!" is the intriguing title of Syd Chaplin's new funnybone tickler for Warner Bros., now showing at the Playhouse Theatre. "Chuck" Reiser, who directed "The Man on the Box," is responsible to the same extent in this hilarious presentation.

The new story concerns a conscientious young newspaper reporter and his tribulations when assigned to take the place of Dolly Whimple, adviser to the governor, while she is on her vacation.

The office force thinks this a great joke and takes advantage of this wonderful chance to do some kidding. But Jerry is ingenious and strikes right back. One day when they are crowded around the keyhole of his office door to enjoy his reactions to their pranking, he empties a copious vase filled with water over the partying onto their heads. This comedy of Chaplin's is billed as one of the best on the screen to-day.

HUMAN APPEAL AND PLENTY OF ACTION IN COLISEUM PLAY

A story of vital interest and great human appeal with plenty of action and requiring strong character work on the part of the cast, Ed. Redmond's production, "A Good Little Bad Girl," is meeting with enthusiastic approval of Coliseum audiences. Each member of the enlarged cast plays his or her part admirably, but outstandingly clever is the work of Gordon Nelson as "Piggie," an unscrupulous rogue; Ruth Hamilton, as "Stella," a part which has a great deal of humor; Gertrude Burton as "Cecily," playing the title role, is romantic and forgiving; and Frank Allwood as "Mr. Courtland," the enthusiastic young surgeon, plays a rather heavy part perfectly.

MYSTERY SHROUDS FILMY, BLACK BIT OF LADIES' WEAR

Shopping among the leading models of Los Angeles and Hollywood, several weeks were needed for Marie Prevost to secure the nine complete changes of costume required for her latest picture, "Up in Mabel's Room," playing at the Dominion Theatre this week.

In addition to the time spent in finding the nine "changes" which had to be not only of advanced mode, but also of proper photographic quality, nearly one week was devoted to locating just the right sort of a filmy black chemise, which is in reality the "plot" of the piece. For Mabel's husband gives her the dainty article of lingerie with an embroidered "Mabel from Garry" on it; the two are divorced in Paris and Garry goes to New York where he poses as an innocent bachelor. With the incriminating chemise Mabel decides to make things miserable for Garry, who has become engaged to a rival.

SENSATIONAL CROOK MELODRAMA SHOWING ON CAPITOL SCREEN

For the first time since he scored in "Big Brother," Raymond Hatton is playing a crook role, that of Harry Silvers in the film production, "Silence," playing at the Capitol Theatre all this week. He appeared in support of Thomas Meighan in "Big Brother," the last of his crook pictures in which Hatton successfully played underworld types.

Following that production, Hatton deserted the ranks of the crooks and teamed with Wallace Beery, with whom he played side-splitting comedy parts. Noteworthy amongst his most recent pictures with Beery are "Adventures of the Devil's Cargo" and "Volcano." In returning to his first love in "Silence," Hatton is seen in a cast which also features Vera Reynolds, H. B. Warner, Rockwell Feys, James Jack, and Virginia Pearson. "Silence" is Beulah Marie Dix's screen adaptation of Max Marcin's sensational crook melodrama of the same name, which played for nearly a year on Broadway.

COLOR FILM TO TAKE PLACE OF FAMILIAR TYPE

A new frontier is being crossed by the men in motion pictures who are now working in color, according to Albert Parker, who directed Douglas Fairbanks' new all-color film, "The Black Pirate," coming to the Dominion Theatre next Monday.

"Many things are being discovered," said Parker, "which are bound to have great bearing on picture production in the future, assuming of course that color photography is to encroach more and more upon black and white. The fact, it begins to appear now that not only will we have color photography but also stereoscopic effect on the screen. Present indications are that the big strides in picture making are to occur in the mechanical end of the business rather than in the creative department. In 'The Black Pirate,' Douglas Fairbanks has accomplished a marked stereoscopic effect in several instances, which no doubt will be the forerunner of greater development along this line."

THESE WOMEN

By MALCOLM DUART

(Copyrighted)

The names and situations in this story are fictitious.

They had been on their way four hours, when his knees began to waver. He looked about helplessly.

"Can you find a taxi cab?" he asked, his voice suddenly weak. He was trembling, and she helped him to a bench. Then she ran to the main boulevard, through the shrubbery. He sat, slumped upon the seat, until she returned.

"I'm so sorry," she said. "There isn't a taxi anywhere in sight. Let's see—can you walk as far as my house?"

He nodded, and they set off, abandoning the paths and walking across the grass. His feet were leaden, and he moved with difficulty. She was supporting his elbow with both hands, and guiding him as one would guide a child who just was learning to walk.

It seemed hours to them both, before they reached her apartment. She assisted him into the elevator, and swung open her own door. With her arm around his waist, she led him to her couch, and he fell heavily upon it. She knelt, as she lifted his feet, and laid him recumbent upon the silken cover. Undoing his tie, she loosened his collar, and took it off. Then, her bedroom she brought a blanket and threw it over him.

Then she bent, and kissed his forehead. "Go to sleep, now, Harry," she said, softly. Then she moved back and sat, watching him. He was already asleep, his breathing heavy, his arms crossed upon his chest.

From time to time the girl, rising, adjusted the windows to shut off the draft from the sleeping man, or rearranged the blanket that lay over him. Once the telephone rang. Leaping to it, she took the receiver off the hook, while she thrust her handkerchief beneath the bells. Then she restored the receiver, without answering the call.

The afternoon wore on, and it was toward evening when a loud knock on the door startled her again. She threw it open, and placed her finger to her lips. Abe Sunshine was standing outside, smiling jovially.

His face fell, as she pointed to Morton on the couch. "Sh-h-h!" she hissed.

Mr. Sunshine looked curiously at Morton, and then at Nona. "Drunk?" he whispered.

She drew him out into the hall, and pulling the door to, she told him rapidly what had happened. He gave vent to lively expressions of sympathy.

"And now I don't know what to do," she wailed. "I've got to go to the theatre to-night, and I can't leave him alone!"

"But I do have to dance," said Abe, cheerfully. "I'll stay with him myself, until he wakes up. He'll be all right!"

The girl gave him a quick, appreciative hug, and he pinched her cheek in response.

"You must be in fine shape for dancing after all that walk," he said. "Look at those circles under your eyes!"

She went back into the room, and peered into the mirror. Abe stood watching in the doorway.

She took him into the hall again, out of hearing of the man upon the couch. "You know," she confessed, "I went over to Harry's apartment after the show was over, last night, and I haven't had a wink of sleep since yesterday morning!"

He gave a shrill whistle, which she stopped by clapping her hand over her mouth. "Don't wake him up!" she urged.

Mr. Sunshine's sympathy now had turned to her. "Mr. Morton there, he's all right, and his daughter, she's got somebody to look after her," he said. "But who's going to look after you?"

She shrugged her shoulders. "I'm all right—I can go through the show."

Mr. Sunshine proceeded to give her urgent instructions. "You go inside there, and take a cold bath, and then you go down stairs, and get yourself all the strong coffee you can drink. Then you eat as much as you want to, and between turns at the theatre, you lie down!"

She tipped into the room, Mr. Sunshine carefully following, and as he sat beside the couch, she went into the bedroom and closed the door. There was a faint sound of running water, and Mr. Sunshine nodded in satisfaction.

She left him sitting there, and adjusted him to silence, again, with her finger to her lips.

Making himself comfortable with his feet upon another chair, the little theatrical man settled to his vigil.

Night fell, but Mr. Sunshine did not light the lamps. The room was illuminated, only by a glimmer from the street lamps far below. Once or twice, restlessly, he got up and moved around to relax his tired muscles.

A little after 9 o'clock, he had retired into Nona's bedroom for a cigarette. He was startled by a sound from the other room. Opening the door, he peered toward the couch.

Morton's arms were moving, and suddenly he sat up.

"Audrey! Audrey!" his call was shrill and agonized. "Mr. Sunshine ran toward him.

Morton had dropped his feet to the floor, and was staring into the darkness.

"Too late!" his voice raised higher. "Dead!"

CHAPTER LII

Mr. Sunshine ran to the switch, and turned on the electric light.

Morton's feet were on the floor now, and he was sitting on the edge of the couch, his arms across his eyes.

"Dead—here at my feet!" The other man sped to his side and shook him. "You've been asleep, Mr. Morton!" he shouted, bending to the other's ear.

Morton dropped his arm, and looked vacantly about him. "I had found her again, and—"

His eyes caught the figure of Abe Sunshine, beside him. He passed his hand across his face, as if to wipe from it a veil that obscured his vision.

"What am I doing here?" he said, sharply. Swaying, he rose to his feet, and laid his hand on Abe's shoulder.

"Where's Nona? Audrey?"

He pressed both hands to the sides of his head. "I was living a scene of nineteen years ago," he said, slowly. "And it was so real that I thought—"

He shook himself. "How long have I been here?"

Mr. Sunshine took out his watch, and looked at it. "About eight or nine hours," he said. "And I haven't had any dinner, and Nona didn't have any sleep at all last night, and now she's at the theatre, dancing."

He took the other's arm. "I'm terribly sorry, Abe," he said. "I remember what happened now. Nona took me, and walked me for four mortal hours. The doctor said I had to do that, or I couldn't get to sleep. And then she brought me up here. Did she say she hadn't been to bed last night?"

"You bet," Abe assured him.

"Then," said Morton, "she had no breakfast either, and no luncheon. I was with her. He groaned. "I'm just a calamity to my friends."

Abe Sunshine took him affectionately by the arm. "You're no calamity at all, Mr. Morton," he assured him. "You're just a fellow in hard luck. We're all glad to help."

Morton was searching around for his collar and tie. Finding them, he put them on before Nona's boudoir mirror. Have you heard anything about Audrey, over at my apartment?"

Mr. Sunshine shook his head. "I'd have called up, but I didn't want to wake you," he said. "Come on—I'll go over there with you, in a taxi. Then I'll go to the theatre, and see how Nona is. She must be pretty nearly used up by this time."

"Telephone me as soon as you find out," urged Morton, as they descended the elevator. "Poor girl! I won't you, Abe."

The theatrical man assented heartily.

"And I'll get me some dinner, too," he said.

They found a taxi, and soon were at the Morton apartment. "If you can eat cold food," Morton said, "come on up. I'm sure there's nothing ready now. It's late."

"I want a hot breakfast," said Abe. "I'll get one for Nona, too, after the show."

Morton shook his hand warmly, and turned into the building. Once in his own apartment, Morton went quickly to the door behind which Audrey lay. Pushing it open he cautiously entered. The nurse was sitting obediently at the head of the bed. Audrey was still asleep.

ing when she once started. But Uncle Wiggily hopped fast over the hills and far away toward the clover field.

Green was the grass, sprinkled with yellow dandelions and white daisies as Uncle Wiggily hopped through it, and when he came to a stone wall on the edge of the clover field, the bunny heard a loud buzzing sound as if aeroplanes were in the sky.

"I must be careful that none of the alrhips drop anything on me," thought Mr. Longears. "Perhaps I had better crawl under that green vine that I see climbing over the stone wall, and hide."

But when the rabbit gentleman started to do this, he found that the vine was a honeysuckle one, filled with white flowers which gave forth a sweet perfume. And the buzzing sound was made, not by aeroplanes, but by hundreds of big bumble bees who were gathering honey from the honeysuckle. Only big bees, like bumblebees, with long tongues, can get sweet juice from a honeysuckle, so deep is the flower.

"Oh, here's Uncle Wiggily!" buzzed a big bumble chap who had often zoomed past the bunny's bungalow, and who knew him.

"Hello, Uncle Wiggily!" buzzed all the other bees. "Did you come to get some honey?"

"No, I am looking for clover, though, that has a little honey in it," answered the rabbit gentleman. "But I am glad that the buzzing I heard was made by you bees, and not by aeroplanes."

"There is a clover field just beyond here," said the largest bee. "If you will hop this way, Uncle Wiggily, I will point it out to you with my left hind leg."

The rabbit hopped along the stone wall, and he was looking for the clover field. He didn't look down to see where he was going and, all of a sudden, he fell into a deep, round hole. It was an old well, for a farm house had once stood where, now, honeysuckle was growing, but the house had crumbled to dust and the well had dried up.

Still, even though it had no water in it, the well caused Uncle Wiggily quite a fall. Down to the bottom he tumbled, luckily not getting hurt much, for there were many dried leaves on the bottom.

"How am I ever going to get out of this well?" sighed the bunny gentleman when he had tried many times to hop out. But each time he only fell back again. "Oh, how can I get out?" cried Uncle Wiggily.

"We'll get you out with the honeysuckle vine," buzzed the big bumble chap. "The long streamers, or strands of honeysuckle vines are strong, like wire ropes. We bees will pull loose enough vines so they will dangle down into the well where you can reach them. You can twist the strands of vines together into a rope and pull yourself up."

And when the bees had pulled and tugged, hundreds of them on one vine strand, they dropped down a number of little green cords, and they formed such a strong rope that the rabbit gentleman easily climbed up, paw over paw, like a sailor, and soon he was out of the well.

"Next time I shall watch where I am going," he said, and, thanking the bees, he hopped over to the clover field and took enough home so all the little bunnies had plenty to eat. And if the hot sun doesn't get so cross that it will not speak to the butter when they meet on the table, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the watermelon.

The three balls seen over pawnshops are traced to the Medici family of mediæval Italy. Some of the first licensed money-lenders in England were from their province and displayed the Medici arms above their doors. As to the balls themselves, they are said to represent pills, referring to the Medici's original calling, that of medicine.

A student at the University of Manitoba recently discovered a rustless wheat, according to several professors at the school.

Uncle Wiggily and the Honeysuckle

"Uncle Wiggily, we need some fresh clover for supper," said Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper to the bunny rabbit gentleman one day.

"What?" cried Mr. Longears. "Is all that clover I brought home last week gone already?"

"I should say it was gone!" chimed in Mrs. Longears. "You seem to forget, my dear, she went on, 'that we have forty-seven little bunny rabbit children who are very fond of clover,'" especially the kind with the big red tops, that are filled with honey. I hope you don't want your little bunnies to starve, Mr. Longears," and his wife looked at the rabbit gentleman very sharply, and began to twinkle her pink nose and snifle a bit as if she were going to cry.

"Oh, no, indeed! Far be it from me to even dream of such a thing!" cried the bunny uncle. "Only I just thought we had plenty of clover in the bungalow. However, my dear, say no more, and I'll bring home so much clover as never was."

So his wife said no more, though it was hard work for her to stop talk-

BICYCLE RECORD

Edmonton, Aug. 5.—Shattering all previous records by four full days, two Edmonton lads have just completed a cycling trip from Calgary in the marvellous time of 21 hours and 45 minutes.

Speeding into Edmonton at 12:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Marion McCarthy and Eugene Ewing entered the cyclists' hall of fame on the basis of a feat not likely to be duplicated for some time to come.

The first trip of the Pony Express from St. Joseph, Mo., to Sacramento, Cal., carried about eighty-five pieces of mail. It brought a message of congratulation from President Buchanan to Governor Downey, of California. The starting day was April 3, 1860, and the trip took nine days and twenty-three hours.

HUDSON'S BAY COMPANY WORKERS SPEND ENJOYABLE DAY'S OUTING AT DEEP BAY

Taking Advantage of Full Holiday Members of Staff and Their Friends to Total of Over 600 Hold Merry Picnic on Fifth Anniversary of Opening of Victoria Store; Employees' Association Sponsors of Successful Event.

Ideal weather favored the fifth annual outing of the Employees Association of the Hudson's Bay Company, attended by a crowd of over 600 persons at The Chalet, Deep Cove, yesterday.

This is the second year in succession Deep Cove has been chosen as the site of the annual picnic by the association and facilities at the grounds more than justified the choice.

A declaration of a full holiday by the management of The Hudson's Bay Company departmental store here left the committed in charge of the outing with many hours to fill. This they did with an attractive programme in which was a great variety of amusements for all and special fun for the children.

In matchless weather the holiday crowd left from the corner of Douglas and Herald Streets at 10:30 a.m., proceeding in relays of tally-hos to the scene. The drive, extending over twenty miles of wonderful scenery passing right through the heart of Saanich Peninsula, was a pleasant introduction to the good times to follow.

Once assembled at Deep Cove all sat down to luncheon, arranged at a series of tables drawn up under shade trees to the right of The Chalet. Caterers were all ready for their mission, and an excellent luncheon followed.

At 2 p.m. the group picture was taken at the scene, and the afternoon given over to a attractive list of field and track events.

The return was made in relays last evening, early tally-hos leaving at 9 p.m. and again at 11 p.m. Dancing was the large open tent, and a feature of the evening's entertainment. Charlie Hunt's orchestra, augmented for the occasion, furnished a special programme of the latest dance hits.

With not a cloud in sight, and forest fires happily absent, the holiday makers settled down on arrival at the grounds for the most enjoyable outing in the annals of the association.

The annual outing this year falls close to the fifth anniversary of the opening of the Hudson's Bay Company's fine new departmental store in Victoria, September 19, 1921, being the date of opening.

A. J. Watson, manager of the Victoria store, and president of the Hudson's Bay Company Employees' Association commented on this fact. W. T. Edgecombe, superintendent, P. S. Horne, accountant, and other departmental heads of the Victoria store added their felicitations on the success of the annual outing.

Much of the credit for the capable direction and smoothly working arrangements of the outing were due to the officers of the association and the committees detailed. After various portions of the programme, these include A. J. Watson, president; J. S. Horne, vice-president; A. R. Minnis, vice-president; Thos. Wilkinson, secretary; W. Y. Merryweather, treasurer, and an executive committee composed of the Messrs McLaren, Bowden, Hunter, McDougall, Gardiner, and Dawson, and Messrs Eaton, Stark, Shrimpton, Nicholls, Cassidy and W. Woodley.

Judges in the field events were J. S. Horne, president, and W. Y. Edgecombe, G. Hibbard acted as announcer; A. Haines, starter, and R. Eaton, clerk of the course. The grounds committee was composed of Messrs. L. F. W. McIntosh, L. Hutchinson and W. Kroeger.

Swelling an excellent prize list the following donated special prizes for various events in the sports programme:

Mrs. Abbott, Messrs McLaren and Grimason, Messrs. A. J. Watson, Horne, Oliver, McBain, McConnell, Minnis, Wilkinson, Woodard, Hunter, Smith, Shrimpton, Stewart, Morry, Florence, McGowan, Spurr, Savage, Stark, Cassidy, Gordon, Hansen, Martin, Wilson, Davidson, Edgecombe, H.B.E.A.

An attractive sports programme was contested keenly in every event. The tug-of-war teams put up a spirited showing. Four teams entered in the two events, one captained by D. Hibbard winning the men's, and J. Cassidy's team winning the ladies.

MEIGHEN SPOKE IN TOWN OF NORTH BAY

Addressed Election Meeting in Ontario on His Way to Prairies

North Bay, Ont., Aug. 5.—Premier Meighen, in the course of his Federal general election tour, addressed a meeting here last night.

TARIFF PROPOSALS
He spoke of his proposal to raise the agricultural schedule of the Canadian tariff as high as the agricultural schedules of the United States' tariff. He declared those who thought things out of season could afford to pay duties.

He did not get frightened by the "bugles of Liberal leaders. We believe in a reasonable tariff," he said. His government, Mr. Meighen added, advocated revision of the tariff for the protective principle at once, applicable to every activity of the Canadian people on a policy of Canada first.

CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUE
Speaking of the recent dissolution of Parliament, Mr. Meighen said: "There is no more constitutional question in this fight than there is in the anatomy of the sun."

Mr. Meighen said he had been entitled to a dissolution of Parliament on two grounds:

1. No motion of censure, was pending against him.
2. A government which came into power between one election and the next was entitled to a dissolution by every British precedent.

TAX QUESTION
Mr. Meighen said the Liberals were waving flags and shouting hallooahs over reducing taxes, while the sales tax was two-thirds higher than when they took office.

"They want to get your blessing," he said, "for raising taxes on the masses of the people and reducing them on the rich."

Addressed Election Meeting in Ontario on His Way to Prairies

North Bay, Ont., Aug. 5.—Premier Meighen, in the course of his Federal general election tour, addressed a meeting here last night.

LEGION TO MOVE TO NEW QUARTERS

Will Occupy Cusack Block on Broughton Street Soon

The Canadian Legion of the British Empire League will be housed in its new club quarters before the end of the present month, according to an announcement made at a special meeting of the club members last night. The club's new rooms will be in the Cusack Block, Broughton Street, and a committee has been named to carry into effect arrangements for a formal housewarming and opening of the new base.

In tentative form, the plans suggest that the afternoon of the day of opening shall be devoted to formalities. This ceremony will be followed by an old-fashioned housewarming for a formal housewarming and opening of the new base.

The new quarters are described as being well adapted to the purpose for which they are intended. There are three stories available for the use of the members in the building. The lower one will be given over to billiard playing and such recreations. This floor is a well-lighted one, with windows on all sides. The main floor will afford space for offices and canteen, and the third floor will provide the assembly room.

At last night's meeting fourteen new members were enrolled. The total membership in good standing is now 643.

A vote of condolence was passed to Comrade H. Armitage in the passing of his wife, Mrs. Armitage recently.

Service will be held in the South Saanich United Church on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Lees, who is away on a month's holiday. The pulpit will be taken by Rev. Dr. Howard of Victoria.

How's your breakfast appetite?

Are you one of the bright and breezy folk that the joyous savour of the bacon brings hot-foot down to breakfast? Or is yours that melancholy eye which wanders from the morning paper no further than the toast-rack?

Is your breakfast a square meal? Or a mere nibble? Not much doubt about which is the proper way of starting a proper day, is there? Not much doubt that you need the square meal. If you don't want it there's something wrong. It isn't anything subtle or secret, or difficult to trace. It's merely that your system has lost tone in these tricky days between winter and spring. You need bucking up. You need the "little daily dimful" of Kruschen Salts.

A "dimful" every morning, tasteless in your first cup of tea, is nature's own prescription, for this little pinch is a scientific combination in nature's own proportions of the six mineral salts that your eliminating organs need to keep them in perfect trim.

When harmony and efficiency are restored to your inside by Kruschen's gentle aid, your present listlessness and sluggishness will very soon give way to "that Kruschen feeling." With refreshed virile blood pounding through you like a mill-race, you'll wake up every morning with such a zest for life — and such an appetite for breakfast — that you'll almost feel like standing up on your hind legs and letting out a joyous "Whoop!"

Start the "little daily dimful" to-morrow, and wire into the eggs and bacon every morning like a regular fellow. It's the little daily dimful that does it! Prove it to your profit.

Kruschen Salts
Tasteless in Coffee or Tea
Put as much in your breakfast cup as will lie on a 16 cent piece. It's the little daily dimful that does it.

Good Health for Half a Cent a Day
The dose of a dimful taken every morning is found in Kruschen's little daily dimful. The medicinal dose for persons suffering from indigestion, constipation, headache, or habitual constipation, with inactive liver, etc., is half to one teaspoonful in a number of hot water before breakfast. Every drugstore sells Kruschen. A 14 bottle lasts three months. This works on at half-a-cent a day for health and happiness. Get a bottle at your drugstore's today and start to-morrow. It's the little daily dimful that does it!

San Francisco, Aug. 5.—Rum runners smuggling liquor into the San Francisco district banked nearly $4,000,000 in 1924 and shipped it to British Columbia. It was declared here yesterday by Judge William A. Beasley, speaking before the Public Spirit Club of San Francisco.

Lubrication is a scientific subject. Science as organized and used by "Union Oil of Canada, Ltd.," presents to those motorists who want the best—

Aristo Motor Oil

Non-Carbonizing Western

Aristo Motor Oil is all lubrication, containing neither paraffin nor asphalt. The hard, flinty abrasive "carbon" that many motorists find on valves, cylinder heads and spark plugs after a few thousand miles of use never comes from this fine Western oil.

The small amount of residue that Aristo leaves is a fine, soft, fluffy substance, most of which blows out with the exhaust.

Motors in good condition which are lubricated with Aristo, therefore, run several years without the troubles, lay-ups and expense so often due to "carbon."

A further preventative of "carbon" is the use of non-detonating Union Gasoline with Aristo Motor Oil. This combination is probably the most effective that is known.
